Career Fair Recap

Many employers stayed on Campus the following day to conduct interviews with students they met at the fairs. Advisory Committee

This year Career Services founded an Advisory Committee made up of Employers from around the Northwest. We had two meetings at Career Services and our Winter Term meeting was hosted at Rubicon in Portland. The meetings allow for Career Services to get information from industry that helps shape how we connect students and employers. If you are interested in learning more about the Committee please email Career Services.

Career Trail

Career Services is always working to improve their mission and goals to educate, empower and engage students in their personal career development. Therefore we developed Career Trail, which is a program that leads students through a series of career development activities. These activities introduce them to concepts in career development and prepare them for the workforce. This is beneficial for employers because it helps students get to know themselves, become better future employees, and find careers that suit their interests.

Internship Survey

Career Services surveyed over 100 employers at the Winter and Spring Career Fairs to learn more about employer internship practices. The survey showed that Employers place a high value on both providing internships for students and hiring students for full time positions who have had previous internship experience. If your company is interested in posting an internship you can do so on Beaver JobNet. For more information regarding internships please see our Internship Guide to assist you in establishing criteria for a successful internship. We also have an extensive website just about internships!

Student Alumni Spotlight

This year Career Services started our Student Alumni Spotlight to highlight OSU students and alumni who have taken an active role in their Career Development. This feature highlights success stories of students and alumni that are actively engaging in their career goals. It also provides marketing for Employers who are engaged with OSU. Our current spotlight is featuring Adam Fargher, an Electrical Engineering student who is doing an internship with Bonneville Power Administration. The Spotlight also showcases how employers like you are investing in our students and alumni and providing meaningful work experiences.
