The new academic year is here and with it many great ways to recruit here on campus. Career Fairs are our largest recruiting events. Registration for the Fall, Winter and Spring fairs are now

Changes in Career Services
After nearly 6 years at OSU, Doug Cochran, Director of Career Services, is retiring. Doug has been instrumental in building a strong team, connecting and serving our students and employers. We are sad to see Doug go but wish him the very best in his new journey as he moves closer to family. We will send an announcement when a new Director joins the team.

Branding Opportunity

Throughout the year, Career Services is involved in many campus wide events with high student traffic. Often times this involves hosting a booth or table and sharing information and engaging students regarding career development and our services. This also provides an excellent opportunity to give students promotional items with people who share similar interests and passions.

The Nonprofit & Volunteer Fair is sponsored by the Center for Civic Engagement and Career Services.

Where: OSU Memorial Union Ballroom

When: Wednesday, February 5th, 2014, 12pm to 3pm, 11am and 12pm breakout sessions. Refreshments provided in the MU Ballroom.

Virtual Career Fair

Last year ECampus collaborated with Career Services to host our first ever virtual Career Fair. The Fair provided a platform for students and employers to interact online, gain exposure to potential candidates and for companies to market themselves. Overall, the students surveyed felt it was a successful event! We are continually striving to find new ways to successfully engage you, the employers, with our talented students. We will keep you posted with more details of future virtual career fairs!

your name and/or logo! Students love the gifts and this provides you an opportunity to get your organization’s name on campus. If you would like more information, or would like to donate some items, please contact Career Services.

Beaver Job Blasts

Career Services implemented an exciting new feature for both Employers and Students. Beaver Job Blasts will take employment opportunities that are posted by employers on Beaver JobNet and email them to students who fit the desired major and job specifications. This means that your job postings will be delivered directly to candidates through email when you post them. This will also increase the exposure for students to see and apply to your posted positions.
Introducing our new Employer Relations Employees

Rachel Finch has recently joined our team and will be promoting employer/student collaboration and job opportunities through Career Services events and Beaver JobNet. She will be planning for the Career Fairs and seminars, and will be organizing job interviews and employer opportunities on campus.

Jessica Haywood is a Graduate Assistant working to connect OSU students with local and national employers to foster a relationship that will help prepare today’s students to compete in an ever-changing job market. She works directly with employers concerning our Orange Circle Sponsorships, Advisory Committee, Employer Newsletter, the employer section of Beaver JobNet, and can answer any questions about these areas.
